My name is Ken Yamada. I have an American friend. His name is Tom Smith. He is fifteen years old and goes to high school. Tom and I are good friends.

Now he lives in San Francisco. He writes a letter to me once a month. His letters are written in Japanese. He lived in Japan for a year, and studied Japanese very hard.

Tom and I studied in the same school. We talked about a lot about music and sports. After school we played soccer together.

Tom has a lot of friends in his school. They want to talk with Japanese students and learn about Japan. I am going to visit Tom this summer. So I am studying English hard now.
